The Turbulator

Turns waste into power.
Simply slip the Turbulators into the intake ports of your motor and you begin to save the 17 to 20 per cent gasoline that you now waste daily. Present day gas contains heavy oil that your Carburetor cannot handle. The TURBU-LATOR takes care of this. Equipped car's Plugs look like this.

Mr. Dan McCarthy of the Tarpley community and his little son passed through Hondo the middle of the week enroute to Austin where the boy will enter the Pasteur institute for treatment. While asleep in the yard Saturday night the boy was attacked by a skunk and bitten on the foot.
Mr. McCarthy was absent from home at the time, and being informed of the circumstance on his return immediately left for Austin with the boy. It is not definitely known whether or not the skunk was afflicted with rabies but the father considered it the part of wisdom to carry the boy to the institute for examination.

Mrs. Ella Woolls had an unusual experience with a rooster last Saturday evening that she will remember for many a day to come. She caught a chicken which she intended to dress and serve for the Sunday midday meal. When the chicken squawked she was attacked and so badly injured by the rooster that a physician had to be called to dress her right hand, lacerated by the spurs of the bellicose barn yard fowl. Her wounded hand is healing nicely and will soon be well, but it is a pretty safe statement to make that when she catches another chicken a good stout bludgeon will be close at hand for use on the scrappy rooster. And he is not of the game variety, either.

Fletcher's Farming has been admitted to the second class mailing privilege, and the second, or August number, is on the press as this is being written. The paper is now permanently established and will appear regularly each month. It will be filled brimfull of good reading matter, such as you will delight to read at your leisure while resting under the shade of your own vine and fig tree, and matter that, for the most part, will be found in no other paper printed. It is sold alone at $1.00 per year, but if you are a reader of this paper it will cost you only fifty cents additional. Order it now so as not to miss any of the issues.

The Anvil Herald Print Shop delivered four thousand ballots to County Chairman Jack Fusselman the first of the week for the Democratic primary election that is to be held today in the various precincts of the county. But little interest is being manifested in the election so far as we can learn and the vote will doubtless be light. With the primary determining who will be our officials for the next two years, it would seem that more interest would be taken in the result. A sample copy of the ballot appeared in our last issue; look it up and make your selections.

C. R. Gaines and Eric Rothe mo-time enhancing the attractive appear-

The railroad strike doesn't seem to curtail the carload shipments from Hondo, and seven carloads were forwarded from here the past week, as follows: 4 cars of corn and 3 of live stock; while the inbound shipments consisted of 1 car of lumber, 1 of coal and 1 of flour, a total of ten carloads.

The people of Hondo will regret to learn that Miss Christine Pike remains critically ill. However, some improvement was noted in her condition yesterday morning, and everyone hopes that the crisis in her illness has been passed and that she will from now on show a continued improvement.

Today the people of Texas are engaged in one of the most important duties of citizenship—selecting officers to conduct public affairs for another ter. A governor for another two years will be named at today's election, or at least one of the two leading in the election will be selected at the November election to that high office. A United States Senator, a representative in congress, a state Senator from this district and a representative in the lower house of the legislature is also to be selected. In the race for representative in congress this primary will make the selection as there are only two candidates, and the one receiving the greater number of votes will be the nominee. There is no contest for the State senatorship from this district, consequently the present incumbent, R. M. Dudley of El Paso will succeed himself. Perhaps the race for rep-
legislature will provoke the greatest amount of interest and is of more vital interest to the people of this district than any other they will be called on to pass upon. There are three candidates in the field, and this primary will decide the two for the run-off in the August primary. In the race for United States Senator, for which there are several candidates in the field, all but two will be eliminated, the successful candidate to be named in the primary of next month.
The next issue of the paper will possibly be able to give the result of the election in the State, and certainly the result in the congressional and representative districts.

The editor's old time friend and former boss while connected with the Farmer's Institute work of the State Department of Agriculture, J. W.
Neill, is the campaign manager for Fred S. Rogers, candidate for Governor of Texas. He writes us to support Mr. Rogers. Well, we didn't support Mr. Neff—even when Joe Bailey was his opponent and either he or this editor one has not improved any since —especially since we stood in a few feet of Mr. Neff and saw him look on with apparent approval while a night-shirt brigade of American Bolsheviks violated the laws of the state in the capital city. We have not found much in the present campaign yet to enthuse over, but Mr. Rogers got first place for Governor while Joe E. Edmondson got last place for Lieutenant Governor on the ballot for Medina County, and if they are not both first in the count so far as Medina County is concerned—well, my folks didn't vote. That's all!

The railroad company has just completed the erection of a new sec-old section house in the east part of town will be occupied by Bob Reynolds who has the section of

REV. G. E. GRUEBER.

Today the people of Texas are engaged in one of the most important
duties of citizenship—selecting officers to conduct public affairs for another ter. A governor for another
leading in the election will be selected
at the November election to that
high office. A United States Senator,
a representative in congress, a state Senator from this district and a rep-
gress this primary will make the
dates, and the one receiving the
State senatorship from this district,
consequently the present incumbent,
R. M. Dudley of El Paso will succeed
himself. Perhaps the race for rep-
legislature will provoke the greatest
amount of interest and is of more
vital interest to the people of this district than any other they will be
primary will decide the two for the
run-off in the August primary. In
the race for United States Senator,
for which there are several candidates
in the field, all but two will be eliminated, the successful candidate to be named in the primary of next month.
The next issue of the paper will
the election in the State, and certainly
representative districts.

former boss while connected with the Farmer's Institute work of the State
Department of Agriculture, J. W.
Neill, is the campaign manager for
Fred S. Rogers, candidate for Governor of Texas. He writes us to support
Mr. Rogers. Well, we didn't support
Mr. Neff—even when Joe Bailey was
editor one has not improved any since
—especially since we stood in a few
with apparent approval while a night-
shirt brigade of American Bolsheviks
in the present campaign yet to en-
place for Governor while Joe E. Ed-
County, and if they are not both
first in the count so far as Medina
County is concerned—well, my folks
didn't vote. That's all!

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

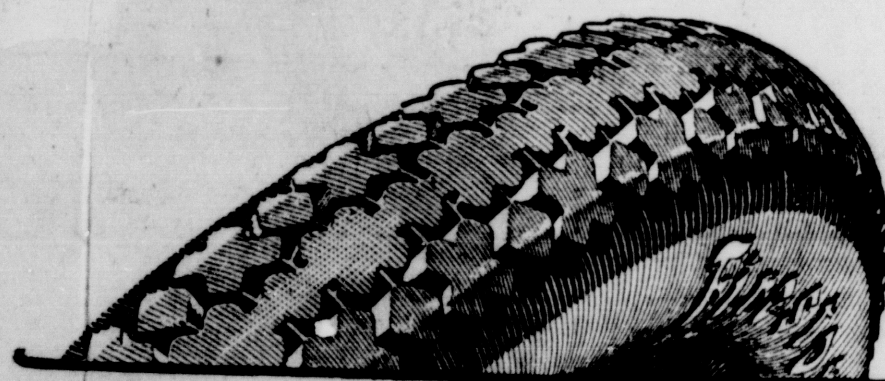

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

Firestone

GUM-DIPPED CORDS and Their High Mileage Records

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better. These records, steadily increasing in number and in mileage totals, justify the Firestone contention that there is one best way to build tires.

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone users say one is best.

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment. Investigate your friends' success with Firestone Cords—and buy your next tire accordingly. Come in and get your share of extra mileage.

RATTLESNAKE ETIQUETTE FOR TOURIST AND CAMPER.

By John Edwin Hogg, in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.
Walking through the shopping district of a large western city recently, my attention was attracted to a drug store window wherein was displayed an assortment of hypodermic outfits, packages of medicine, etc. The display had much the appearance of a conspiracy against the drug laws, until my eye fell upon a card which read: "This is Rattlesnake Season. Buy Your Snake-Bite Outfit Before You Start on Your Vacation."
Although the chambers of commerce of southwestern cities endeavor to suppress all rattlesnake publicity because it is not especially desirable for the development of the country, the snake menace is a genuine one. And it is, besides, a menace that will never be eliminated by refusing to recognize it.

Years ago, some one who evidently had some horsehair ropes to sell, started the story that a rattlesnake will not crawl over such a rope. Because I do a great deal of mountain and desert camping, and have had many disagreeable experiences with rattlesnakes, I swallowed the story myself—and immediately bought two horsehair ropes.

For more than a year I slept on the ground in the mountains and in the desert, feeling perfectly secure within that "magic circle." I probably had my money's worth in the mental satisfaction I enjoyed during that period, but eventually there came a night in the desert when the horsehair rope theory was knocked into a cocked hat, and I quit sleeping on the ground.

Another rattlesnake theory that should have the "skids eased under it," is that which has led a multitude of people to believe that the rattler always rattles before it strikes. Sometimes it does and sometimes it does not. As a matter of fact the snake uses its rattle for about the same reason that a dog snarls. If you come upon a rattler except during the season that it sheds its skin, and it sees you first, the chances are ten to one that it will make its presence known by lifting the tip of its tail, vibrating it so rapidly that it becomes almost invisible to the eye. The noise it lets out depends largely upon its size. If it is a little desert sidewinder, its note of warning is similar to the buzzing of the eastern summer locust, but there is an odd metallic twang about it that cannot be compared with any other noise I have ever heard. Once having heard it, one is not likely to mistake it for anything else.

While I spend almost half of my time in the mountain and desert regions of the Southwest, and spend considerable money each year for pistol cartridges used for sending rattlesnakes to their just deserts, I do not fear them. Since my experience of having a sidewinder invade my camp, I have slept in a snake-proof tent. This tent is made by having a canvas floor sewed into the walls, and a snake-proof door, which is merely a strip of canvas about a foot wide, sewed to the floor and side walls of the tent in such a way that it stands upright at the foot of the door regardless of whether it is open or closed. No snake can get into such a tent, and it is also a protection against ants, spiders, tarantulas, scorpions, and crawling insects.

If the limited capacity for carrying camp equipment prevents the use of a snake-proof tent, a thoroughly effective snake fence for sleepers on the ground may be made by pegging down a strip of canvas to stand perpendicularly in a circle completely enclosing one's camp.

If you come upon a rattlesnake, the thing to do is to kill it by the simplest and safest method. With a shotgun the job is easy, and quite as safe, as swatting a fly. A rifle is as sure death as the shotgun, but not quite so easy unless one is a fairly good marksman. To use a pistol successfully, one must be a good shot to nip off the snake's head with a single ball. Without a firearm, the best way to finish a rattler is with rocks, or with a stick of sufficient length to enable one to swat it without getting within range of its fangs. The rattler's range is about two-thirds of its length, so if you keep that distance away while endeavoring to club it, or throw rocks on its head—you are perfectly safe.

One should never venture into any rattlesnake country without providing himself with a first aid kit for

RENEWED TESTIMONY.

No one in Hondo who suffers backaches, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Hondo woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Hondo resident can doubt.

Mrs. Heyo Schweers gave the following statement May 28, 1915: "I had an attack of kidney trouble. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused me annoyance and there were other ailments arising from disordered kidneys. I believe the trouble was brought on from a cold which settled in my kidneys. I purchased Doan's Kidney Pills at Windrow's Drug Store and a short use corrected the trouble which has never returned."

On May 3, 1919, Mrs. Schweers said: "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills since they cured me four years ago."

[Farming]—FARM LOANS.

The Hondo National Farm Loan Association, H. E. Haass, Secretary-Treasurer, Hondo, Texas, representing 132 borrowers, with $503,280 borrowed, is prepared to make farm loans anywhere in Medina County under the Federal Farm Loan Act at 5 1/2 per cent interest and 1 per cent 33 year amortization repayment plan. Nineteen thousand Texas farmers have taken advantage of this system of borrowing over fifty million dollars. Why not you? Former restrictions have been taken off and you may borrow for any purpose provided for in the Act, as a farmer only.

The over-zealous in most any cause are liable to work injury to the very cause they hold dear by being unreasonable and indiscreet. I know men who are really good and pious whose influence is not worth much because they are regarded as fanatics. It is easy for a man to get lop-sided and inconsistent; much easier than for him to maintain a well rounded, or four-square character. The main thing is to have good common sense and let that govern.

OIL ACTIVITIES.

LACOSTE LEDGERETS

From The Devine News.

Rig Moved in Saturday to Morris Hill. Sollock, Gorbett, Isbell and Thompson, with their big trucks hauled a big drilling outfit from the Magellan place, near Hondo Saturday morning, on the N. E. foot of Morris Hill. According to the state geologist, this is the best oil structure in Medina county, and Judge Noonan and his associates have been for several months trying to get a well started. The derrick will be up this week and the well spudded in in a few days. The strike at Chicon Lake, almost directly in the path from the west part of Somerset field, has greatly encouraged the promoters of this well, and they believe that they will strike paying sand at a shallow depth. They are preparing to go to Austin this week. This well is about three miles W. of the Kimball, where oil was struck and lost at 1,800 feet; and about twelve miles west of the Somerset field proper.

Taft-Tex Well Showing Oil Sand

John Roberson, manager Taft-Tex well at Chicon Lake, accompanied by a Kempf of the Lake, were called at the News office Saturday. Mr. Roberson is a Texas man but has spent ten years in the Taft California oil field, and came here to look over the Taft Texas contracts. He says that they had struck paying sand at 375 feet, and were still drilling now at 400 feet in the sand, and that he was sure of a paying well. They will go on down, however, to see what is below. Mr. Roberson says this shallow depth with a 10-barrel well is much better than a larger well down 1,000 or 1,500 feet. They had only been about ten days drilling to this oil since they added in on July 3rd. This well is in the Jungmann tract, west side of Chicon Lake, about six miles due north of Devine; about two miles east of the Christilles wells, which are shallow producers. It is about six miles from the Garnand at Lytle, which is also classed as a light producer, has been under way. We hope before this issue of the News is out to get further news from the Taft-Tex.

Mrs. E. J. Balms is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Ney, at D'Hanis this week.

Summer Sprains Both Feet in Fall

John Poerner, a farmer living a few miles north of town, while driving a load of hay and striking a post, was thrown to the ground on Thursday of last week, and sprained both feet, probably fracturing some small bones. He has been unable to walk most of the time since, but comes down in his Ford with some one to see. The injury was attended by a doctor and we hope to see John again.

August Schott Jr. is now filling a bookkeeper's position with Loggins and Lilly, vice Miss Fay Foster resigned some time since.

Tax Collector Fritz Muennink and Deputy Agent Merritt, Hondo, were one day in the interest of the Medina County Fair, which is to be at Hondo in September.

FROM MR. MORRIS.

Fletcher Davis, Hondo, Texas.

Mr. Davis:—

I earnestly feel like the people of Medina county should return me to the Legislature for a second full term the 22nd of this month. My mind is an open book to the people of the 7th District and it has not been attacked in any way by my opponents. I stand squarely for enforcement, economy, uniform equal taxation, good schools and roads.

For 37 years of age, a practicing lawyer, have been a staunch Democrat all my life, and during the 37th legislature I served on the most important committees, namely, the Appropriations Committee, which is to the Legislative body itself; and on the Free Conference Committee in equalizing the appropriation for the eleemosynary institution of this State, which is one of the greatest propositions confronting the people's money.

I never ride the fence; I am always find where I stand. If experience is worth anything it should be in State affairs legislative matters.

Yours sincerely,
GROVER C. MORRIS.

FOR SALE

Farms and Ranches.

HONDO, TEXAS.

Oil activities continue brisk in Medina County, and the wise ones are anticipating a paying strike in the near future. In fact, there is a rumor to the effect that the Taft-Tex Company has already struck pay sand, but it will be several days before the actual capacity of the well will be determined. The well is now being cemented and it will probably be ten days before a thorough test can be made. The drill when stopped had penetrated a 20-foot oil sand, besides a thinner sand encountered at a shallower depth. This well is on the Jungmann tract, on the Chicon Lake.

The drill of the Yancey Oil and Gas Company has finally passed through a very hard 34-foot rock, and is now making rapid progress.

The Bitter, Graves and Adams Drilling Company spudded in Tuesday and are very sanguine of reaching pay sand at an early date. Some of our local people are interested in this undertaking, which is located on the Francisco, some three miles north of Devine.

A California company has secured a lease on the August Rothe ranch, north of D'Hanis, and are under contract to spud in in ninety days.

A forfeit of $1,500 has been posted in a Hondo bank for the drilling of a well on the Bless farm on the Yancey road, drilling to start just as soon as a rig and derrick can be placed on the ground. Work on this well will be pushed to the utmost as a double shift will be employed and work will be continued day and night until the well is completed. This company will use the most up-to-date equipment ever employed in this section.

It would be well for oil men to keep their eyes on Medina county for the next three months as something is liable to happen here at any time now.

A New Tread—a Lower Price Reliable Goodyear Quality

Here is a new Goodyear Cord Tire—a big, sturdy, long-wearing tire—that sells at a price lower than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20 to 25% less.

It has in it the same high-grade long-staple cotton, the same Goodyear patented group-ply construction, the same liberally oversize dimensions.

When you buy the 4½-inch size, for example, you get a tire whose actual measurement is nearly 5 inches.

Don't confuse this Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord with other popular-price cords which sell at the same price or for slightly more.

In many cases, these other cords are made of inferior materials, with short-staple cotton as a foundation.

Get the tire that is good enough to carry the Goodyear name, that is built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

All of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here have the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, ready for you now.

By Rev. J. T. Horger.

IV.
In Gen. 3, 6 and 7, with reference to the fall of man, we read: "And when the woman saw that the tree was good for FOOD, and that it was PLEASANT to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one WISE, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat; and gave also to her husband with her, and he did eat."

"And the eyes of them both were opened, and they KNEW that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves aprons."

Indeed this was a strange tree of forbidden fruit; good for FOOD, PLEASANT to the EYE, and CALCULATED to make one WISE!

But how truly do the words—"food," eyes," and "wise" set forth the main avenues through which we are allured and sorely tempted to sin in this world!

The word "food" represents the appetites, propensities, and passions of the body. All of which, if kept within their normal and proper spheres, are necessary to the support, comfort, happiness and propagation of the race in the earth.

Also the appreciation of the "eye" for the beauty and grandeur of the landscape with all its living green and blooming flowers and ripening fruit, being interspersed with bubbling springs and sparkling rivulets; running creeks and rolling rivers, all dotted with modest hills and majestic mountains, truly elate, inspire and elevate the mind and are conducive to the innocent pleasure and happiness of man while in a state of probation on earth.

Likewise, a well regulated desire to be "wise" in the various sciences and gifted in the many arts, and to have a knowledge of both the visible and invisible of this world are wholesome and profitable. But alas! the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eye, and the pride of life, when allured, led and directed by the wicked one; what avenues of sin and death they become to the soul.

God's commandment, "Thou shalt not eat thereof," stood for the whole prohibition law of God, either written or revealed to the conscience of man by the Holy Spirit. And when Adam and Eve had partaken thereof, their eyes were open to the fact that they were naked. Their infantile innocence had served as a cloak of righteousness for them. But the first willful transgression of a known law stripped them naked; and lo, they were defiled, loathsome and unclean, and therefore ashamed for the pure eye of God to look upon them; yea, also ashamed to be seen by one another.

Now we find the analogy of the above in the fact that the soul of man, born in the world since the fall, is not sufficiently and thoroughly clothed, as God would have it clothed, in the robes wrought and washed in the blood of the Lamb. But in its state of infantile justification, not having committed sin by way of transgression, it seems to rest in peace, not being conscious of the evil propensities lying in the deep recesses of the soul. But when this evil propensity of the heart, or the propensities of the body, are awakened by the tempter, and we are led into the transgression of a known law, ere long the soul wakes up to its nakedness and discovers its deilement and condemnation.

Who is it that cannot remember how naked and guilty, vile and condemned the heart and soul felt immediately after the committal of sin? Watch the boy or girl as they advance in the experimental knowledge of sin of any kind; how they begin to shirk and shun the association and communion of the pure and holy. If father and mother are truly religious and Godly, you will notice in whatever proportion the child is indulging in sin, it will lose its appreciation for the company of father and mother and all others that appear to be pure in mind, heart and life. If a boy or girl is rapidly going the road to ruin by sin, they seldom desire to attend church and Sunday School for worship; and if they go, they will take their seat away in the back of the church, and if there is a dark place where the light is dull, there is where you will find them. Like Adam and Eve, they hide themselves among the trees of the Garden.

But we are told that Adam and Eve tried to clothe themselves by sewing fig leaves together and making themselves aprons. So it has ever been with the transgressor in every age since the fall. They have tried through their own good works to clothe their naked souls by some man-made method or means. Some have tried to balance the account of sin by deeds of good works and righteousness; especially by deeds of kindness and charity, towards their fellow creatures. Others have endeavored to do away with the nakedness of their souls and corruption of hearts by education, training and culture, exercising themselves in many clever, pious, good and charitable works. A long life in such conduct will never transform the heart. But God has declared all such efforts to be worse than nothing, even as filthy rags before Him. This "fig leaf patch up," of the soul by man is a signal failure before God. "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His MERCY He saved us, by the WASHING of REGENERATION, and the RENEWING of the Holy Ghost." Tit. 3:5. In Rev. 3:18 we are admonished to buy of Him "white rayment" that we may be clothed, so that the SHAME of our NAKEDNESS do not appear.

However, after Adam and Eve had tried to clothe themselves as best they could and hid themselves among the trees of the garden, in that obscure, silent hiding place, while doubtless, they were enshrouded in melancholy reflection, they heard the voice of God walking in the cool of the evening calling unto Adam saying "WHERE-ART-THOU?" Even so has the Lord our God been calling for us through the everlasting gospel and wordings of the Spirit, ever since our first transgression, saying by way of conviction for our sins, "Where Art Thou?" Isa. answers, "We have all gone astray." St. Paul describes sinners as being "aliens to the commonwealth of Israel, strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world." Yea, "Dead in trespass and sins." Jesus is ever calling, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

Adam not only found himself naked, and filled with shame and fear, but DEAD through his trespasses and sin. God had said, "In the day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."

We are not left to speculate or guess at what that death meant to Adam. But by way of personal experience and observation, with the study of the scriptures, we are brought to realize of a truth, that every soul that sinneth surely dies. Death is an extinction, or departure of certain principles which form the different traits of character.

Therefore, when man sins, he loses his LOVE for God, for the Holy Angels and all the redeemed host in earth and heaven. He has no relish, appreciation, or even reverence for the holy, the pure and good. "FAITH IN GOD," that indispensable prerequisite to character, is gone; and the star of hope has faded away.

The spirit of prayer has departed, and the song of praise, and the triumphant shout of victory in holiness and true righteousness proceed from that soul no more; it is DEAD! Absolutely dead to God and Godliness. "In the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die," is as true with us today, as it was with Adam and Eve.

But while the sinner is truly dead to Godliness, he is by no means dead to sin; and sin is the poison of perdition, the spawn of Hell, that generates wickedness and propagates crime, corruption, misery, sorrow, destruction and woe in earth and in Hell.

Sin awakens, perverts, and sets on fire a desire for evil, even the natural propensities and appetites of the body, thus intensifying a hundred fold, the allurements of the Devil through the lusts of the flesh, to transgress the law of God.

But a thousand times worse than the propensities of the body, are the propensities of a fallen, sin-cursed and devil-inspired heart. This fact is often overlooked or passed by entirely too lightly. Referring to the heart defiled with sin, Jeremiah says: "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: Who can know it?" Jer. 17:9. Jesus Christ said, "Out of the heart of men proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride and foolishness."

Not only was man defiled, but the earth was corrupted with thorns and thistles, disease, death and decay; and now awaits the purifying fires of the final judgment day. But still more terrible is the fact that sin accepted and exercised in the heart will transform the human into a devil with all his fiendish traits of character.

OVERLAND PRODUCTION SHOWS BIG INCREASE.

Willys-Overland during the second quarter just finished, has had one of the best business periods in years, according to Willys-Overland officials. The popularity of the product never has shown greater evidence of public approval. Shipments for the next quarter as foreshadowed by orders on hand should exceed 50,000 cars. Compared with the first five months of 1921, the increase in Willys-Overland sales for the first five months of 1922 throughout the United States is 348 per cent.

The South particularly has come back with a great increase, sales in one section being 113 per cent greater than last year. The total increase for the South is 406 per cent.

The Central division shows an increase of 405 per cent and this includes two localities where the increase is particularly significant. These are the Toledo district and the Detroit district. Toledo is the home of Willys-Overland and Detroit is the home of most of Willys-Overland competitors. In these two localities Willys-Overland sales have shown extraordinarily high percentage of increase this year.

Willys-Overland officials attribute this tremendous growth in Willys-Overland sales this Spring to the extraordinary economy of the Willys-Knight Overland cars and the extreme care used to make every car turned out as nearly as possible a perfect automobile.
